

AN UNOFFICIAL MINECRAFT SERIES

DR. CAN DO

I CAN DO IT!

Jill digs up
rock the whole
long day. Now
tall grey piles
are in her way.

Dr Can Do
made a bin
for the town.
Jill waits in a long line with a frown.

Jill will make her own bin
one day. Dr
Can Do helps
and shows her
the way.

She has laid it all out on the ground. But the bin will not make a sound.

A gap sits in the red stone trail. That is why the bin
will fail.

Jill fills the gap the right way. Now she can dump her stone all day!

I Can Do It!

Jill has a HUGE problem - stacks and stacks of cobblestone taking over her whole yard! The line at Dr Can Do's stone-disposal bin is much too long, so Jill decides to build her very own. But can she really follow the tricky pattern all by herself? And what happens when her shiny new bin just sits there, silent as a stone? This decodable reader practises the 'ai/ay' phonogram with words like 'day,' 'trail,' 'waits,' and 'fail.'
