

JUMP UP!

Illustrated by Sindupama Chandrasena

Vic has a gift for us.

Vic is good at sport.

It is a ball!

The illustration is a watercolor-style drawing. On the left, a large, close-up profile of a face with a pinkish-red complexion and a thick, brown, textured mustache. The face has a gentle expression. On the right, a group of children are gathered around a large, rectangular game board. The board is divided into sections with various colored pieces (blue, red, black) and a net in the center. A large, purple, elephant-like hand is reaching down from the top right corner. The children are looking at the board with interest. The overall style is soft and artistic, typical of children's book illustrations.

Vic tells us how to play.

We must jump up and hit the ball.

The ball goes up and over the net.

If the ball lands,
they do not win.

The game got its start in America.

But you can play in any spot with a net.

Vic can help us play.

Hit the ball up!

The dog wants to play.

Bookbot books are free, high quality decodable readers based on the order of sounds introduced by the Bookbot Scope & Sequence.

We're delighted to offer them to you to download and print at no cost. But it would be great if you could link to our page www.bookbotkids.com/free-books from your school's website so others can enjoy our free books.

We believe in creating an extensive library of decodable readers to inspire and bring confidence to children learning to read. You can find out about our mission at www.bookbotkids.com.
