

THE CAP

illustrated by Angie and Upesh

Here is Don.

He is out for a day with his family. When they go to the shops, they each get to choose something to buy.

His brother chooses some star glasses. His sister chooses a lollipop. Don chooses a blue cap that he can wear in the park.

At the park, the wind sweeps the cap off his head. He stretches out and nearly catches it before it sails on the breeze ahead of him.

The cap lands high up in a tree. Don fetches a small rock and tries to peg it at the hat to bring it down, but it does not work.

He starts to cry and he cannot stop.
His new cap was so cool. Now it will be stuck in the tree for good and he will have to watch it get old and dirty.

He can see the cap from his window. Just when he is thinking that he might get the broom and try to poke it free, the moon comes up.

The moon catches his hat! He can see a smile on the moon.
Don tells the moon
that the cap is its to enjoy.

Don's mum gets him a new cap.
This one is red. He cannot wait until the moon is in the right spot for him to show it his new cap.

Don rushes out when the moon is on the rise. They are cap buddies now! Don hopes that the cap never falls out of the tree.

The next day, Don cannot help but think about the sun. Does the sun want to have its own cap too?

ES

Bookbot books are free, high quality decodable readers based on the order of sounds introduced by the Bookbot Scope & Sequence.

We're delighted to offer them to you to download and print at no cost. But it would be great if you could link to our page www.bookbotkids.com/free-books from your school's website so others can enjoy our free books.

We believe in creating an extensive library of decodable readers to inspire and bring confidence to children learning to read. You can find out about our mission at www.bookbotkids.com.

Adapted from “The Moon and the Cap” by Rohini Nilekani and Angie & Upesh. Licensed under CC BY-NC 4.0.

The text has been rewritten to cater to readers at varying stages of their reading proficiency, aiding in the development of their reading skills. Illustrations have been modified to comply with the specific prerequisites set by the reading levels. This adaptation has not received official approval from the original author or illustrator.

You are free to copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format, provided you adhere to the license terms stipulated under CC BY-NC 4.0.

Please provide appropriate attribution by providing a link to Let's Read and Bookbot.

www.bookbotkids.com

Copyright © 2024 by Bookbot